3. The governance system – inclusive of risk management and internal control system – is designed and implemented by the Bank Management Board who are also responsible for its efficient functioning.
4. Implementation of the management system is supervised by the Supervisory Board who also assess its adequacy and effectiveness.

§ 35a.

1. The tasks of the risk management system are to identify, measure or assess, control and monitor the risk appearing in the Bank's operations in order to ensure the correctness of the process of determining and executing the purposes of the activities carried out by the Bank.
2. Under the risk management system, the Bank:
 - 1) applies formalised principles used for determining the size of the risk taken and the principles of the risk management,
 - 2) applies formalised principles aimed at identification, measurement or assessment and monitoring of the risk appearing in the activity, where the said procedures take also into account the forecasted level of future risk,

- 3) applies formalised limits to mitigate the risk and principles of conduct in the case of exceeding the limits,
- 4) applies the approved management reporting system that allows risk level monitoring,
- 5) has an organisational structure adjusted to the size and profile of the risk borne.

§ 35b.

1. The purpose of the internal control system is to ensure:
 - 1) effectiveness of the Bank's operations,
 - 2) reliability of the financial reporting,
 - 3) observance of risk management principles at the Bank,
 - 4) compliance of the Bank's operations with the law, internal regulations and market standards.
2. The internal control system includes:
 - 1) control function tasked with ensuring the application of controls, notably those concerning risk management at the Bank; this function covers jobs, groups of persons or organisational units responsible for performing that function tasks,
 - 2) compliance unit tasked with identification, assessment, control and monitoring of compliance risk understood as the risk of consequences of non-compliance with laws, internal regulations and market standards, and also delivery of relevant reports, and
 - 3) independent internal audit unit tasked with examination and appraisal of – impartially and objectively – the adequacy and effectiveness of the risk management system and internal control system, except for the internal audit unit.
3. The persons managing the internal audit and the compliance units shall report directly to the President of the Bank Management Board. The approval of the Supervisory Board is required to appoint and recall the managers of those units.
4. Detailed principles of the operation of the internal audit system shall be specified by the Bank Management Board and approved by the Supervisory Board.
5. The Supervisory Board shall supervise the internal control system and shall appraise its adequacy and effectiveness at least once a year.

IX. Bank's Capitals and Funds.

§ 36.

1. The Bank's own funds shall comprise:

- 1) paid up and registered share capital,
 - 2) supplementary capital,
 - 3) reserves,
 - 4) general bank risk fund,
 - 5) revaluation fund, and
 - 6) retained earnings.
2. The Bank's own funds shall be established pursuant to the principles set out in the applicable laws.

§ 37.

1. The general bank risk fund shall be established under the Banking Law Act.
2. The Fund referred to in section 1 herein shall be established out of the profit after tax in the amount passed by the General Meeting and shall be earmarked for risks of banking activities.
3. Decisions to make use of the fund as mentioned under section 1 shall be taken by the Bank Management Board.

§ 38.

The supplementary capital shall be established from the profit after taxes, out of the surplus funds achieved while issuing the shares above their face value, and out of the extra charges paid by the shareholders and assigned for covering the balance sheet losses of the Bank.

§ 39.

Reserves are established irrespective of the Bank's supplementary capital from the annual net profit. The General Meeting shall decide on the amount and utilisation of the reserve capital. The reserve capital may be used for:

- 1) covering specific losses and expenses,
- 2) increasing share capital from the Bank's resources,
- 3) purchasing own shares by the Bank in cases provided for by the law,
- 4) paying out dividends, including advances for anticipated dividends.

§ 39a.

Retained earnings comprise:

- 1) retained earnings of previous years,

- 2) profit under approval and net profit of the present reporting period, computed in line with the effective accounting principles, less any foreseeable encumbrances and dividends, in the amounts not higher than the amounts of profit verified by chartered auditors, upon approval by the Polish Financial Supervision Authority.

§ 39b.

The revaluation fund shall be used to record post-revaluation changes in the value of non-current assets, made in line with the applicable regulations. The revaluation fund shall be increased whenever the value of non-current assets is raised. The revaluation fund shall be decreased with the differences arising from the revaluation of non-current assets earlier forming Bank's assets and later sold, donated or liquidated.

§ 40.

The decision on the use of the reserve and supplementary capital shall be taken by the General Meeting. The Management Board is also authorised to use the reserve capital allocated by the General Meeting for the purpose specified in § 9.4 in the case specified in § 42.2.

X. Finances of the Bank, Profit Distribution, and Accounting.

§ 41.

The Bank's finances shall be run based on the annual financial plans approved by the Supervisory Board.

Detailed principles of the Bank's finances shall be defined by the Bank Management Board.

§ 42.

1. The Bank's profit after taxes shall be allocated, in the amount resolved by the General Meeting, for the following:
 - 1) supplementary capital,
 - 2) reserves,
 - 3) general bank risk fund,
 - 4) dividend for the shareholders that may also be offered in the form of the shares of the new issue,
 - 5) other purposes.

2. The Management Board is authorised to make an advance payment to shareholders on account of the expected dividend at the end of the financial year if the Bank has sufficient funds for the payment. The advance payment shall be made within the limits provided for by law and shall require the approval of the Supervisory Board and agreement with the Polish Financial Supervision Authority.

§ 43.

1. The Bank shall keep the accounting in compliance with the International Accounting Standards, International Financial Reporting Standards and related interpretations published in the form of regulations of the European Commission.
2. For the cases not governed by the stipulations mentioned under section 1, the Polish Accounting Standards shall be applied accordingly.
3. The Accounting Policy of the Bank shall be determined by the Bank Management Board.

§ 44.

A calendar year shall be the financial year.
